GERMANS
PATRIOTICEx-Soldier Contradicts
Statements of MacArthur.

H. F. Stipp of Hackfeld & Co., a German who is now a citizen of the United States, and who participated in the war with Spain, contradicts certain of the statements made by General MacArthur relative to the Germans.

Mr. Stipp, who was a member of the Eighth New York Volunteers during the Spanish war, called at the Advertiser office yesterday and made the following statement:

"I wish to deny emphatically the statement made by General MacArthur that there were 'few Germans in the American army in the war with Spain, so few, indeed, that the presence of a German was noted as a rare occurrence.'

"When the Spanish war broke out the German Grand Army in New York offered to raise three regiments of a thousand men each for service. These regiments were recruited and in April, 1898, were offered for service, but the President replied that the volunteers could not be then accepted, although they might be mustered in later. The men in these regiments then obtained permission from their officers to enlist in regiments of United States Volunteers already accepted, and many of them joined the Eighth, Ninth, Twelfth and Seventy-First New York Volunteers. The Forty-Seventh, Volunteers, New York, which was recruited in Brooklyn, also was nearly half Germans. Later when we went to Chickamauga Park I was sent on recruiting service and Germans were enlisted as freely as any other nationality. In camp I should say that fully ten per cent of the regiments were Germans. My company, E, had about fifteen Germans out of 103 enlisted men and I should say the average was in excess of ten per cent.

"I believe that the Germans are generally credited with being very loyal citizens in the United States. If they were not they would never have volunteered in the numbers they did in the Spanish war."

VICTIMS AFRAID TO PROSECUTE

For fear of being held up to public ridicule as "easy marks" the men who have been made the victims of the woman who has operated extensively in Honolulu for two weeks past, hesitate to begin prosecution. The woman is already alleged to have obtained at least $1500 from confiding Honolulu men but not one of the half dozen victims of the Madame Humbert scheme has complained to the police.

"You ought to do it for the good of the community," one of the victims was told.

"Let the community take care of itself—I have troubles of my own," was the reply.

That at least two of the woman's victims have ground for criminal prosecution is said to be certain, but they will not have her arrested for fear of the probability that they might have to go into court and be exposed to the public view as "easy marks."

The woman has cut a wide swath since she came here a few weeks ago with a wild story of two $10,000 certificates of deposit on California banks, which she had placed in a sealed envelope. She bought lots and houses, borrowed money, cashed checks, bought furniture and flowers and curries and was having a glorious good time on the strength of her sealed envelope until, through some mistake, it was opened by R. H. Trent. The woman intended to make business houses, banks and trust companies her trustees, and claimed to have $20,000 coming on the Alameda. She exhibited a letter from a firm of California attorneys saying the money had been sent, and later displayed a confirmatory cablegram.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth said yesterday that the police were never approached by the victims, and until they found some one willing to swear to a complaint, no prosecution could be begun. It is possible that the grand jury may investigate the matter.

NEWSPAPER MEN
CAN USE LAUNCH

Newspapermen whose business requires them to meet incoming steamers, other than island boats, will shortly be privileged to take passage in the United States Customs launch Waterwitch and board the vessels outside the channel after the medical inspection is completed. Collector Stackable will issue passes to the Advertiser and to the other local papers, which will permit one representative from each paper to be accommodated on such trips.

This accommodation to the waterfront reporters to board passenger steamers, transports, freighters and warships, to obtain information as to the voyage and the passengers, and to secure interviews, will greatly facilitate their work. Collector Stackable and the inspectors have been extremely courteous to the press, and this new privilege is in line with their past endeavors.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury R. B. Armstrong approved of the recommendation of Collector Stackable in the premises and gave the necessary authority.

A letter is held at this office for Mr. D. J. Medbury.

WHAT YOUNG MEN SHOULD INVEST IN

Percy M. Pond delivered an address yesterday evening, before the Problem Club on "Safe Investment for Young Men of Limited Means." Mr. Frank Atherton supplemented the address by urging young men to invest in that which gives good security rather than to invest for large profits. Mr. Martin related experiences in losses which served as a lesson and amusement. Mr. Owens acted as chairman. Dr. Scudder will deliver a lecture next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock before an audience of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. in the rooms of the Boston building.

Mr. Pond's address, which is too long to accommodate itself to the Advertiser's crowded space this morning, is scheduled to appear tomorrow.

Collector Stackable has received a request from the Treasury Department for information as to the cost of the Waterwitch, the gasoline launch now being used by the customs officers. The figures will be sent to Washington and if the price is satisfactory the launch will be purchased.

WE ARE MARCHING ON.

It is strange, yet true, that most of the diseases of middle age and advanced life are efforts on the part of the system to purify the blood. Yet because of the feebleness of the liver, kidneys and bowels these well-meant efforts are often in vain, and lives come to an end which might have been prolonged for many pleasant years. There was, formerly, no remedy which could be depended upon to prevent or overcome this condition. But within the past decade we have been making progress. Truth is mighty and will prevail. The old notions and moss-covered superstitions must fall before new facts and new discoveries. Nothing thus far known to medical science is so effective in purifying the blood through its action on the excretory functions of the body, as WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION. It quickly scatters and overcomes the following familiar and dangerous symptoms of impure blood and torpid circulation: The languid, tired feeling; pain in the head; dry skin; bad taste in the mouth; weak stomach with nausea, etc. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It relieves and cures many ailments that have been abandoned as hopeless. The reasons are—its power over the digestive and assimilating process, its action in expelling impurities from the blood, and its consequent ability to vitalize and rebuild the whole structure. No slow or doubtful action. "You cannot be disappointed in it. The first bottle proves its virtue. Genuine is sold by chemists here and everywhere throughout the world.
